COMMENTS FROM THE TOWN MANAGER'S OFFICE

There are a couple of subjects that I would like to comment on this week. The first item is overnight parking. In the ordinances of Bethel there is a section that states that there shall be no overnight parking on any street or other town way from Nov. 1 to April 1.

The next item is the parking of vehicles on corners and on cross walks. It has been brought to my attention by a school bus driver that it is very hard to get a bus around a corner when there are cars parked on both sides of the street right next to the corner. Parking on a cross walk makes it inconvenient and dangerous for pedestrians. I don't believe that anyone would want their car parked illegally when an accident occurred in the area.

The snow fence is all up and the town crew is fixing the holes in some of the unimproved roads. There are still some grading to do but the weather will have to wait some before it can be done.

Tax payments picked up some the last couple of weeks. The month of October was fairly slow as far as tax payments were concerned. There are about six weeks remaining this year and over 50% of the tax commitment is still unpaid, so things should be quite busy for a while.

COMMERCIAL CHRISTMAS TREE TRANSPORTATION UNDER STATE REGULATION

All transporters of Maine Christmas trees, boughs or tips for commercial purposes must register with the Maine Forest Service prior to moving these items over any public way in Maine, reports Forest Commissioner Austin H. Wilkins.

A certificate of Registration for transporting these products can be purchased for $1.00 from the Maine Forest Service, Augusta, or for $1.25 from any town or city clerk in the state. The two major points in the Law are:

(1) When cutting trees, boughs or tips on land of another, a written permit from the landowner or his authorized agent must be in the possession of the cutting crew.

(2) In transporting Christmas trees, boughs or tips over a public way, a Christmas tree Certificate of Registration and a bill of sale, current landowner permit or other written statement of legal ownership of the trees, boughs or tips must be in the vehicle or on the person of the driver.

Mr. Wilkins urges all buyers, sellers and transporters of Christmas products to become acquainted with the law. All state, county and municipal law enforcement agencies are authorized to make inspections, investigations and arrests.

Copies of the Law are available from county agents, town and city clerks, extension forester, Service Foresters of the Maine Forest Service, or by writing direct to the Maine Forest Service in Augusta.

Mr. and Mrs. Colwyn Haskell and family moved Saturday to their new home on Paradise Street.

Mrs. Earlon Paine has returned home from the C. M. G. Hospital in Lewiston where she has been a patient for several days.

Fluoridation Subject of PTA Meeting Talk

The Bethel PTA met at Crescent Park School Tuesday, Nov. 13, at 8 p. m. A resolution voicing support of the teachers and the job they are doing was passed. A sum of money to be divided among the four schools for library books was voted on and carried. The convention delegates felt the trip to Lewiston last month very worthwhile. The third grade won the banner for attendance. After the business meeting Mr. Heino introduced the speakers of the evening.

Mrs. Samuel Timberlake told of the success of the dental fluoride treatments. Last summer 194 children participated in the program sponsored by the Bethel Health and Service Council and the PTA. Bethel's eligibility for the program is not guaranteed. In that line fluoridation of the water supply was discussed. Dr. Robert Easton told of the marked improvement in the Norway children's teeth after ten years. After five years there was 50 per cent less decay. After 10 years there is 60 to 70 per cent less decay and a corresponding decrease in amount spent on teeth.

Mr. Newton of the Bethel Water Company said that if Bethel wants fluoridation the Water Company would do all it could to cooperate.

The meeting was adjourned after a question and answer period. Refreshments were served by the sixth grade mothers. The next meeting will be Tuesday, Dec. 18, a social evening in charge of Mrs. Guy Parker and Miss Joan Abbott.

DETECT DIABETES WEEK ENDING SATURDAY

In urging all-out participation in the Diabetes Detection Drive for Maine, Nov. 11-17, Dr. Melvin Bacon, State Chairman, stated that the goal is to discover all undiagnosed diabetes and urge them to seek prompt medical care for their own protection. At the same time, he declared, the annual Drive gives added opportunity for helping the public to understand the importance of the disease and the need for finding hidden diabetes as early as possible.

Although diabetes is no respecter of persons, those most likely to develop the disease are: parents of large babies (nine pounds and over); persons who are over forty; who are overweight; who are related to known diabetics. Women develop diabetes more frequently than men.

In general, if diabetes is discovered, and brought under a good regimen of treatment, the usual reward is added years of life and comfort. Diabetes so treated can live as long and work as normally as non-diabetics.

"FOR A HEALTHIER TOMORROW," Dr. Bacon concludes, "be sure and have a test. You'll be glad you did."

Mrs. Holmes Gould is working in the Bethel Spa.

Miss Helen Varner was a week end guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Allen in Lovell.

DR. S. S. GREENLEAF

Dr. Sherman S. Greenleaf, Bethel veterinarian and funeral director, died at Stephens Memorial Hospital, Norway, Wednesday morning.

He was born in Starks, Maine, March 8, 1893, the son of Zelber E. and Lena Flu Greenleaf.

After having funeral homes in Madison and Skowhegan, he established the S. S. Greenleaf Funeral Home in Bethel in 1920. In 1932 he built a modern funeral home on Vernon Street and moved to that location. Since 1955, his son Eldon has been associated with him.

During his 35 years as a practicing veterinarian he became well known over western Maine and New Hampshire. In 1932, and again in 1939, Dr. Greenleaf was given charge of readying the sled dogs for the Byrd Antarctic Expeditions.

He was a member of the Bethel Lions Club (charter member); Oxford Bear Lodge, K. of P.; National Funeral Directors Association; Maine Funeral Directors Association; and Associated Funeral Directors.

He is survived by his widow, Mabel Stevens Greenleaf; a daughter, Mrs. Arlene Brown of Bethel; three sons, Robert L. of Farmington, John S. and S. Eldon of Bethel; nine grandchildren; and two brothers, Howard L. and Everett O. of Starks.

Private funeral services will be held at the Greenleaf Funeral Home at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon, the Rev. Richard Hamilton and Rev. Clifford Laws officiating. Bearers will be the following funeral directors: Wilbur Clay of Lincoln, Donald James of Phillips, Arthur Blake Jr. of Mexico, Clayton Bane of Bethel, Everington Hawthorne of Dixfield, and Eldredge Steeves of Portland. Burial will be in Woodland Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home Thursday and Friday, 2 to 4, and 7 to 9 p. m.

ANNUAL CHRISTMAS SEAL CAMPAIGN STARTING

The traditional annual Christmas Seal campaign opened this week with the mailing of more than 5,100 letters with Christmas Seals to residents of Oxford County, it was reported by Dr. Brinton T. Darlington, Augusta, president of the Maine Tuberculosis and Health Association.

"For a period of more than a month, many volunteer workers have been assisting staff to prepare the letters which it is hoped will provide the funds necessary to continue effectively the association's program of TB control and the prevention of other respiratory diseases."

In a letter recently sent to volunteer workers throughout the state, Dr. Darlington said, "over nine million lives have been saved since the first Christmas Seal was sold, but nowadays the saving of lives is not enough. We must see to it that every person and family is spared the suffering and tragedy of tuberculosis and that the other respiratory diseases are controlled."

"Proceeds from this year's

Planning Board Offers Appeal Method of Mobile Home Control

At the 1962 Town Meeting the final article in the Town Warrant was a provision against permitting trailers or mobile homes in certain areas of the town. This article was passed over after involved discussion developed and the lateness of the hour indicated no immediate action could be taken.

At a recent meeting of the Planning Board responsible for recommending zoning requirements for the town, it was thought that possibly there was a feeling that the entire area of the built-up section of the town corresponding to the former village area should be restricted, permitting individual requests for trailers in the "village" to be handled by appeals to the Board of Appeals where permission is granted if adjoining neighbors do not have objections.

It was agreed to bring such a proposal up for action at the next annual Town Meeting, providing that public opinion indicated this desirable. A committee of three was appointed to publicize this thinking and encourage comments and suggestions in advance of the public hearing that will have to be held shortly prior to the Town Meeting. Such comments and suggestions should be made through the pages of the Bethel Citizen or by letter to Mrs. Ruth Carver Ames, of the Planning Board.

Christmas Seal campaign must do more than maintain our present activities against TB and other respiratory diseases. We must expand our efforts to help ex-TB patients get back on their feet and stay there; extend our education program so that people will learn how to protect themselves against TB and other respiratory diseases.

"We must put more money into medical research and education to provide needed medical knowledge and services to patients, and we must continue our energetic leadership in general health promotion," he concluded.

Volunteers in the county are: Bethel, Mrs. Dana Brooks; Buckfield, Mrs. A. B. Hutchinson; Canton, J. H. Pulsifer; Greenwood, Mrs. Colista Morgan; Hanover, Mrs. Daisie B. Warren; Hiram, Mrs. Marion O. Davis; Lovell, Mrs. Marcus Stearns; Mexico, Nelida Arcusault; Norway, Mrs. Albert J. Stearns; Peru, Mrs. Alice Knox; Rumford, Mrs. Bernhard Mayer; Charles R. Fagan, William H. Kraske, Edward L. WHAT IS 4-H?

4-H in Bethel and elsewhere has had a very good start this year. Many children and teenagers are taking an effective part in learning facts on many subjects that ordinarily would not be of interest to them until they were at least out of high school. They are converting their minds into something very useful not only in school, but also out of school.

4-Hers are part of this country's future. Their knowledge of what they acquire now, at an early age, will help, in a way, to pick one of the two roads to progress. Picture in your mind one road which has been trampled and of which the gate has been open many times, and another that has hardly a few footprints in it. The gate at the beginning of this road is reserved for the harder working and the ones that want to prosper in our growing America. 4-H members strive to pass through the latter gate.

To list all of the clubs in just the state of Maine, would be a difficult task for anyone. The clubs have so many subjects that members take some time in picking one or more that they like. Some of the many are: Cooking, Home Improvement, Sewing, Electricity, Dairy, Woodworking and Art. Many scholarships can be won if you are outstanding.

Although 4-H has a different meaning to each member, I think they will agree with me that it is a rewarding experience. All of us pledge our heads to clearer thinking, hearts to greater loyalty, hands to larger service, health to better living, for our club, community and country. It has been my privilege as a Junior Leader to assist and help the young and deserving ones. We must also give our thanks to the leaders and parents for their patience and helpfulness which helps make a good club. Encourage your child to join a 4-H Club around your neighborhood when enrollment comes next year or better yet why not start a club of your own. If you do, call VA 4-2001, and leave your name and address. I can send it to the county agent. Believe me, it will be a rewarding experience.

Respectfully,
A 4-H Member

NEW BOOKS AT BETHEL LIBRARY

Adults:
"The Commissioner," by Richard Dougherty. The Commissioner is far more than a spectacular view of big city police; it is a compassionate and often humorous view of the strengths and frailties of contemporary New Yorkers.

"Consider Miss Lily," by Alyene Porter. "The theater is a cathedral of the spirit," said Miss Lily in her fateful interview with Papa, and "so convinced him that like the church, the theater was deeply concerned with good and evil, truth and the triumphant spirit of man."

"Only Fifty Years Ago," by Gladys Hasty Carroll. This is a splendid portrait of how life was in the early 1900's for those who knew how to live right and were determined to "A Bridge for Passing," by Pearl S. Buck. A beloved novelist tells the moving story of her hour of trial when, bereft of her husband, she had to find her way in life alone.

"The Decline of Pleasure," by Walter Kerr. Walter Kerr writes about the pleasures of life and of art in a way that makes them palpable. His book is an invitation to experience them.

"The Reivers," by Wm. Faulkner. A book about moving and tender relationships, with profound moral insights into human conduct.

"Cast a Giant Shadow," by Ted Berkman. Mickey Marcus is one of the truly great heroes of modern Israel.

"The Battle for Bunker Hill," by Richard Ketchum. The Battle for Bunker Hill had everything, and not since Gentleman Johnny Burgoyne described it has the story had a telling to match this.

"No Parade for Mrs. Greenleaf," by Anne Miller Downes. A warm and living story of a man's growth from childhood, on through mistakes and suffering, love and friendship. Set in upper New York state, the story is rich in people as it is in plot.

"A Simple Honorable Man," by Conrad Richter. This story of a storekeeper turned minister, is a fictional record of a life spent in the service of others. A novel rock-based in values and virtues which sometimes seem to have disappeared from our fiction.

Young People
"San Francisco," by Emil

GILEAD

— Mrs. F. M. Holder, Cor. —
Clarence Taylor returned to his home in Gardiner Monday after spending several days with his brother, Harry Taylor, and family.

Warren Wheeler of Manchester, N. H., was a week end guest at the home of Mrs. F. M. Holder.

Mrs. Virginia Wright and family of Carthage have moved into the Wiseman rent.

Mr. and Mrs. James Grant of Gardiner spent the holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Taylor.

Alton Howard of Camp Devens, Mass., is spending a ten day furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Howard.

Among the lucky hunters last week were George DeCoster, Woodrow McArthur, James Grant, Clifford Cole and Russell Taylor.

Miss Sharon Taylor has gone to Bethel where she has employment at the home of Mrs. Howard Lapham.

Allan Pratt of Germany was a guest of friends in town Saturday.

"We read in the papers that Congress is raising postage to get the Post Office out of the red, then raising salaries to get back in again. Does that make sense?"—The New, publication of the Fitchburg (Mass.) Paper Co.

Weiss. The separate stories of San Francisco's history reads like an adventure story and each abounds with colorful personalities and human interest stories.

"Voyage to Santa Fe," by Janice Holt Giles. This is "historical fiction of a high order of excellence" which ranks with the best of Janice Holt Giles novels of the American frontier.

"Sandpiper," by Rosamond Thaxter.

20 SECONDS with the NAZARENE

As we approach the Thanksgiving season and appreciate anew the many benefits that are ours under God, we should realize that He who has given all that we label "ours" calls us to be at our best for Him. We are all called to be "Rooted and built up in Him, . . . established in the faith, . . . to abound with thanksgiving."

(Quotation from Paul, Colossians 2:7)

Haydn S. Pearson

WINTER PREDICTION

The countryman feels a degree of reluctance in mentioning the portents that have recently manifested themselves. There was a time before radio meteorologists began talking about high and low pressures and television weathermen took to blackboards with wavy-lined drawings, that solid countrymen around a pot-bellied stove in a general store spoke with authority.

We are told that more persons listen to the weather predictions than to any other program. We admit that weather forecasters lead precarious lives and that their listeners find perverse satisfaction in predictions that fail to materialize.

However, a farmer who lives intimately with the weather and has studied the omens over the decades, is not afraid to come out with an unhedged statement. The signs were never more definite. It is going to be an old-fashioned, humdrum of a winter with above average snows and long spells of cold.

Corn husks were unusually tight and leathery on the sweet corn; onion skins have been much thicker than usual. Woolly caterpillars are ominously gaunt and lean looking. But the best and most reliable sign is the way squirrels have been carrying their tails. If a squirrel's tail floats out rearward, it means an easy winter; if the tail is straight up and down it foretells an average season; if the tail is carried far over the back pointing in the direction in which the squirrel is traveling, it means an old-fashioned winter.

Perhaps you have noted the situation. Squirrels' tails have been almost touching their heads. It behooves every householder to lay in a barrel of flour, a 100 pound bag of sugar and a gallon jug of molasses. Make certain the woodshed is heaped with dry wood and that the barn scaffolds are filled with fodder. We also recommend a new set or two of extra heavy long ones for personal insulation over the months ahead.

Ft. Pierre, S.D., Times: "How long can a government survive that requires one out of every six of the nation's workers to run it, and has spent so much more over the years than it has taken in that it owes $1.2 trillion—or $6,642 for every man, woman and child in the country?"

HEALTH AND SAFETY TIPS FROM THE AMA

Diabetes Detection Week:

In some people the body cannot make full use of some of the foods we eat, mainly the carbohydrates, or sugars and starches, because the pancreas, a large gland lying behind the stomach, does not make available enough insulin to turn these foods into energy or to store them for future use. When this happens you generally have diabetes.

The sugars increase the blood sugar content until they pass through the kidneys and into the urine.

It is estimated that there are 1,600,000 known diabetics in the United States, plus perhaps as many more who have diabetes and don't know what's wrong.

The most usual symptoms are—increased thirst—constant hunger—frequent urination—loss of weight—easy tiring—changes in vision—slow healing of cuts and scratches. Most likely prospects for diabetes are those overweight, over 40 years, relatives of known diabetics and older women.

Diabetes cannot be cured but it can be controlled and most of the known diabetics lead virtually normal lives. Control is achieved by careful diet, exercise and, in many cases, insulin or newer oral anti-diabetic drugs. In diabetes the pancreas does not make enough insulin and therefore insulin is injected to overcome this deficiency. Some patients can control mild diabetes with oral tablets.

Diabetes can be controlled only if it is detected. To this end, the week of Nov. 11-17 has been proclaimed as Diabetes Detection Week in the United States.

Suppose you have some or all of the symptoms? Or suppose you have no symptoms at all? You still could have diabetes. What can you do to find out? It's simple. Visit your physician and ask him to examine you. In many communities special detection programs will be conducted during the national week.

A test to rule out diabetes is very simple and is not expensive. Don't take a chance on diabetes. Ask your doctor to check you.

SGT. LOWELL IN SOUTH GERMANY ARMY EXERCISE

Army Sgt. Norman R. Lowell, 30, son of Mr. and Mrs. Linwood L. Lowell, Bethel, recently participated with other personnel from the 3rd Division's 30th Infantry in Exercise MARNE ROCK, a two-week field training exercise conducted in Southern Germany.

The exercise was designed to maintain the individual soldier's over-all combat readiness and effectiveness, with emphasis on small unit tactics.

Sgt. Lowell, assigned to the infantry's Company A in Schweinfurt, Germany, entered the Army in September 1953. He arrived overseas on this tour of duty in June 1959.

The sergeant is a 1951 graduate of Gould Academy and attended Burdett College, Boston. His wife, Beverly, is with him in Germany.

C. P. S. NEWS

Miss Ballard's and Mrs. Brown's classes will be moved to Crescent Park School this week end. This will allow Mrs. Ward's and Mrs. Gould's classes to be moved upstairs in the primary building.

Physical exams have been given in grades four and seven at Crescent Park. The polio and tetanus shots will be given to the Crescent Park students after Thanksgiving.

The following boys are practicing basketball at Gould Academy on Saturday morning from 9-11:30. They are under the direction of Mr. Bragdon. Boys participating are as follows: Larry Fox, Tommy Davies, David Hutchins, Bill Eames, John Buck, Dick Waldron, Bill Myers, Lloyd Carver, Edward Robertson (Ned), Harlan Bean, Howard Chapman, R. Remington, Jim Lowe, Mike Witter, Larry Smith, Kerry Smith, John Thurston, Craig Boyd, Alan Remington, Philip Runnels, Alan Howe, Steven Carter, Gary Page, Lindy Chayer.

Beverly, Mass., Evening Times: "Washington, by maintaining artificially high prices through its price-support programs, regulation of commerce and transportation, minimum wage laws and a lengthy list of other intercessions on behalf of one economic or political segment or another, is more guilty of shunning the consumer than either labor or management."

SMALL WOODLAND OWNERS AERIAL SPRAY FOR PROFIT

During the past two summers small woodland owners in Oxford County have taken to aerial spraying of herbicides to reduce low-quality hardwoods overtopping white pine and other desirable softwoods. They have been aided by the service foresters of the Maine Forest Rehabilitation Program. This state-federal program will pay 80% of the costs of spraying.

What are the benefits of aerial spraying? Land which has burned or been cut excessively in Oxford County will often seed to desirable softwoods. Some of these lands, however, soon develop excessive sprouting of non-merchantable hardwoods such as grey birch and poplar. By killing back these competing hardwoods, the softwood species, such as pine, spruce, hemlock, etc., can increase the height growth and stay ahead of hardwoods in the future. Thus a woodlot which was destined to become wasteland is returned to the production of a valuable forest crop.

The spray material consists of 2-4-5-T in oil which is a herbicide. It is not poisonous to animals or wildlife, but instead is a growth hormone which causes the tree to grow itself to death. The spraying is done in August after the softwoods have developed a callous tissue on the new growth so the herbicide will not "burn" them.

Costs are inexpensive for the amount of work accomplished in such a short time. The spraying is contracted by the Maine Forest Service who supervises the spraying of 3000 acres each summer. The price in recent years has averaged $5.50 per acre. The state will assist landowners signed up under the program which reduces costs to $1.10 per acre. This is an inexpensive way to weed your forest garden!

During the Fall your local service forester Dave Clement is looking over land to be sprayed in 1963. If you have some land you want the service forester to examine he can be reached by writing to RFD 1, South Paris, or by calling 743-6900.

Your service forester is available free-of-charge to answer any questions you may have about your woodland. An employee of the state, he works only on private woodland applying good forest management practices to help small woodland owners derive more income from their investment.
